

NFL Alumni Providing COVID-19 Rapid Antibody Screening Tests by Teaming Up With 1271 Partners, Streamline Medical Group, and RayBiotech

MOUNT LAUREL, N.J., April 23, 2020 /PRNewswire/ -- 1271 Partners, Streamline Medical Group, and RayBiotech have partnered to provide COVID-19 testing to the NFL Alumni Association and its members. The partnership is offering Coronavirus (COVID-19) IgM/IgG Dual Antibody Rapid Test Kits as a member benefit to NFL Alumni members with telemedicine consultations to help families screen and possibly prevent the spread of the virus.

National Football League Alumni Association

1271 Partners and Streamline Medical Group have executed a distribution agreement that provides an exclusive license to provide RayBiotech's IgM/IgG Dual Antibody Rapid Test Kits to all of the professional sports leagues and arenas, such as the NFL, NBA, MLB, etc. In addition, 1271 Partners and Streamline can distribute the Rapid Test Kits in North America, South America, and Europe on a non-exclusive basis.

"As an ongoing effort to fight the COVID-19 crisis we are fortunate to offer, our members and NFL Alumni families, an option for a rapid screening test, thanks to RayBiotech, 1271 Partners and Streamline Medical Group's relationships," said NFLA CEO Beasley Reece.

"Streamline Medical Group has always been on the forefront of optimal health and wellness through our blood testing for our patients. Streamline now has the opportunity to address the emergency need for valid COVID-19 rapid screening in partnership with the NFL Alumni Association Athletica and 1271 Partners," says Gary Brecka, CEO of Streamline Medical Group. "Along with 1271 Partners, we chose to become a distribution partner with RayBiotech because of their location right here in the USA and their history of providing cutting-edge array technologies for the discovery of regenerative medicine and disease-related protein biomarkers. We have a very high degree of confidence in their testing capabilities."

"As a managing member of 1271 Partners and a fellow NFL Alumnus, I am more than thrilled to offer our constituents, families and consumers-at large through the NFL Alumni Athletica platform, the opportunity to distribute COVID-19 Rapid Test Kits manufactured right here in the U.S. We are all living in challenging times and to provide a quick solution for some peace of mind is very satisfying," said 1271 Partners Managing Member, Billy Davis.

"We are very excited to partner with this excellent group of organizations to help provide access to COVID-19 screening kits for its members, the sporting community, all the fans and businesses that surround them. Specifically having the ability to work with the NFL Alumni and the 35 chapters throughout the country, will provide a gateway of solutions not only for the Alumni members but also the consumers and local businesses trying to get back to work in a safe and effective manner," said RayBiotech Senior Business Development Manager, Jarad Wilson.
